

A photograph of three individuals in military-style attire, including berets and balaclavas, in an outdoor setting. One person in the foreground is holding a rifle, while another in the background is aiming a mortar. The scene is set in a field with trees in the distance.

REPUBLICAN
RESISTANCE
CALENDAR
1990

As long as Ireland is unfree
the only attitude for Irishmen and Irishwomen is an attitude of revolt

— P. H. Pearse

The theme of this year's Republican Resistance Calendar is posters issued in the last 20 years.

JANUARY

Poster advertising a march organised by Sinn Féin (Britain) to commemorate the sixth anniversary of Bloody Sunday.

FEBRUARY

One of a series of posters in the 1970s calling for British withdrawal and an end to collaboration.

MARCH

Celebrating International Women's Day 1982, the poster highlights the role that women have played in the Irish struggle.

APRIL

1982 poster exposing the murderous nature of the British army's Ulster Defence Regiment (UDR).

MAY

Calling on worker solidarity with the 1981 hunger-strikers for a Day of Action on April 15th 1981.

JUNE

Wanted poster issued during the 1981 Hunger-Strike.

JULY

1970s poster showing British army thugs beating up Belfast people.

Two Irish collaborators Lieutenant Price and Special Branchman Christy Power working for the British government on Dublin streets in 1920 and in 1986.

AUGUST

Reprint of 1920 Dan Breen wanted poster brought out in 1987 by the Irish Anti-Extradition Committee to highlight Fianna Fáil's hypocrisy on extradition.

SEPTEMBER

The poster which highlighted the conditions in which republican women POWs were being held in Armagh Jail in 1980.

OCTOBER

1989 anti-censorship poster by the cartoonist Cormac.

NOVEMBER

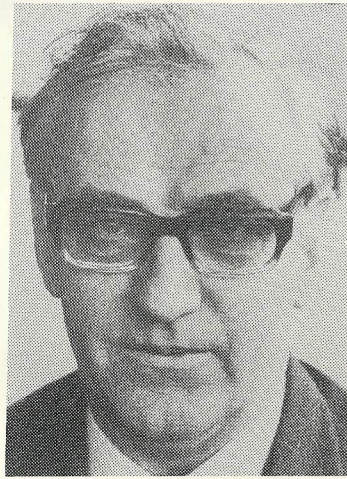

The brutality of the British state is clearly exposed by this 1974 poster of one of a number of POWs who was viciously attacked by the British army inside Long Kesh concentration camp.

DECEMBER

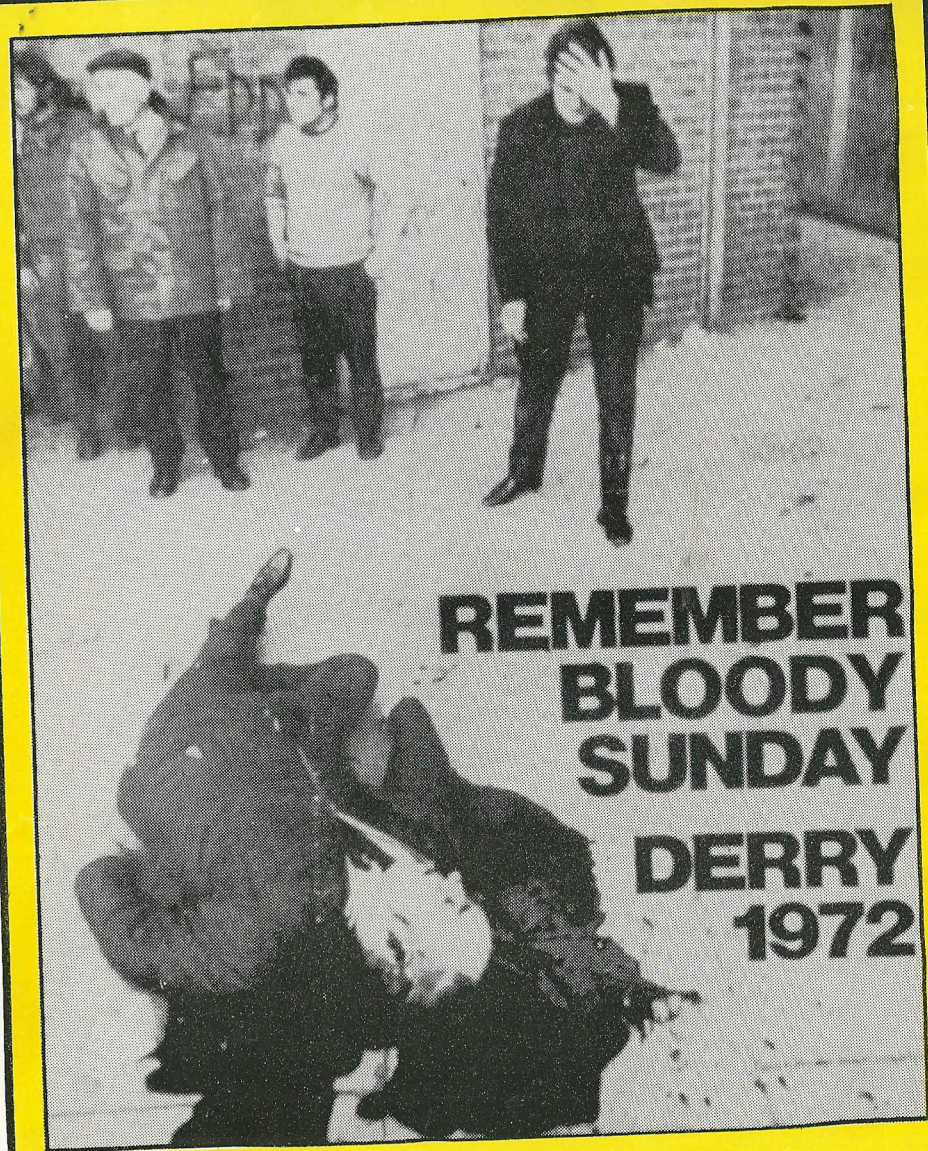

Robert Ballagh's 1989 poster marking the 200th anniversary of the French revolution and its influence on Ireland.

"To hold back and pretend it doesn't affect you is to take the easy way out. To take arms and fight back is hard and dangerous. It takes courage, dedication and a devotion to your people to take the hard road to freedom."

— Seamus Twomey.

"They fought because they believed that only a free Ireland of 32 Counties could provide a living for all her sons and daughters and could be happy and prosperous. Partition rule has failed as much in Leitrim as in Fermanagh. The youth of Swanlinbar and the youth of Kinawley and Derrylin have met the same fate — two out of every five have had to emigrate to find work."
 — John Joe McGirl.

International women's day 1982

This is not a man's war but a people's war, and very, very much of the suffering has been borne by the women, be they mothers, wives, political activists or Volunteers, and the men ought to remember that without the sacrifice of women there would be no struggle at all.

"Today, more than ever before, highly-politicised republican activists are determined and confident that they will see Ireland united and free. They have proven themselves ready to overcome the most repressive of British methods and in this they have set an example to all the oppressed sections of the Irish people."

— IRA statement

POLITICAL PRISONER
LONG KESH

ONE OF MANY MEN ALMOST BEATEN TO DEATH BY BRITISH TROOPS
 AFTER THE BURNING OF LONG KESH CONCENTRATION CAMPS ON THE 15th OCTOBER, 1974.

Issued by Belfast Sinn Fein

"Total equality and fraternity can't and never will be gained, whilst parasites dominate and rule the lives of a nation. There is no equality in a society that stands upon the economic and political bog of only the strongest make it good or survive. Compare the lives, comforts, habits, wealth of all those political conmen with that of the wretchedly deprived and oppressed."

THE LOYALIST MURDERERS

● Most of the UDR's recruits came from the disbanded and discredited sectarian 'B' Specials

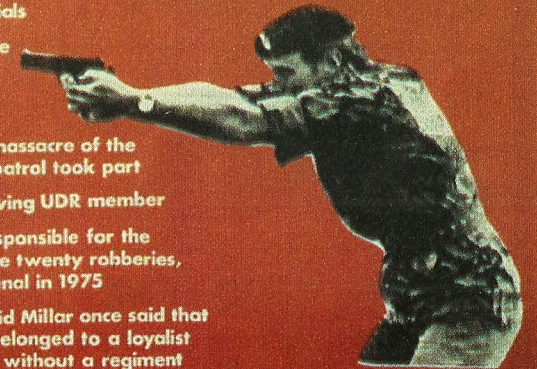

● 250 UDR men have been convicted of the most heinous crimes, ranging from murder to vicious assault, attempted murder, rape, robbery and theft

● The most notorious example being the massacre of the Miami Showband in which an entire UDR patrol took part

● One of the 'Shankill butchers' was a serving UDR member

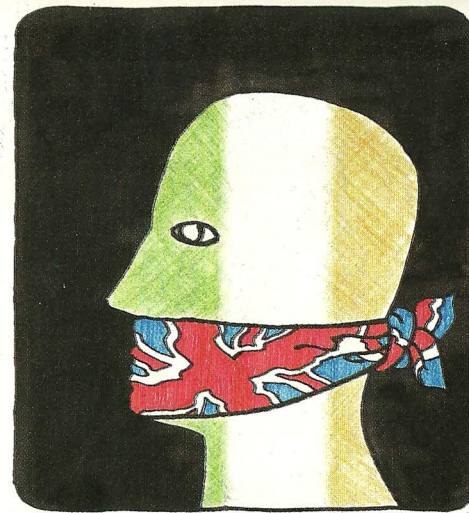

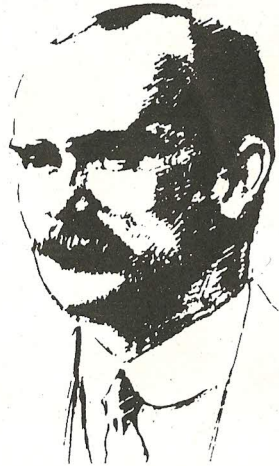

● No.5 UDR in South Derry have been responsible for the assassination of at least six Catholics, some twenty robberies, and the theft of the Magherafelt UDR arsenal in 1975

● Former UDR commandant Brigadier David Millar once said that if he sacked members just because they belonged to a loyalist paramilitary group then he would be left without a regiment

" Believing that the British government has no right in Ireland, never had any right in Ireland, and never can have any right in Ireland, the presence, in any one generation of Irishmen, of even a respectable minority, ready to die to affirm that truth, makes that government forever a usurpation and a crime against human progress."

" The reasons, the means are the same — "They said I was ruthless, daring, savage, bloodthirsty, even heartless... The clergy called me and my comrades 'murderers' but the British were met with their own weapons. They had gone down in the mire to destroy us and our nation, and down after them we had to go..."
